RECOMMENDATION LETTER

Aishwarya Hiwrale, born on September 12, 2000, has been employed with us as a Working Student Software Developer from October 16, 2023, till January 31, 2026.

In this role, Aishwarya has been actively involved in the development of modern software solutions and has demonstrated a high level of technical competence, reliability, and professionalism. She works confidently within agile Scrum environments and uses GitHub effectively for version control and collaborative development.

Aishwarya possesses strong expertise in backend development, particularly using Java and Python, and contributes to the implementation and maintenance of robust, scalable server-side applications. She also has solid experience in API integration and applies best practices in software architecture and code quality.

In the area of frontend development, Aishwarya creates responsive and user-friendly interfaces using JavaScript, HTML, CSS, and React. Her solutions are well-structured, maintainable, and aligned with current industry standards.

Furthermore, Aishwarya has hands-on experience with cloud technologies and databases, including Google Cloud Platform (GCP) and Firebase, and supports cloud-based deployment processes. She is familiar with CI/CD pipelines and contributes to efficient and reliable software delivery.

Quality assurance is an integral part of her work. Aishwarya applies automated testing frameworks such as Pytest and Cypress to ensure stable and high-quality software. She also demonstrates proficiency in builds, automation and dependency management tools, including Maven and Gradle.

In addition to their technical responsibilities, Aishwarya actively represented our company at several conferences and external meetings, where she successfully demonstrated company products to partners and stakeholders. In these settings, she consistently displayed excellent communication and presentation skills, explaining complex technical concepts clearly and confidently to both technical and non-technical audiences. Her professional demeanour contributed positively to the company's external image.

In addition to their technical skills, Aishwarya stands out for their ability to produce clear and well-structured technical documentation. She works independently, shows strong analytical thinking, and integrates well into multidisciplinary teams. Her work ethic and commitment have consistently met our expectations to our full satisfaction.

She consistently took ownership of her responsibilities and contributed innovative ideas that added value to the team.

We value Aishwarya as a dependable and motivated software developer and confidently recommend her for any position that matches her qualifications and experience. We are convinced she will continue to deliver excellent results in future roles.

We regret that her employment ends due to the closure of the company.

Should you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact us.
